The coming holiday season is one that brings many families together to celebrate traditions, family ties and share the history and stories of family members. Camp Nelson Heritage Park in Nicholasville, KY is the perfect place to spend some family time this holiday season. Visitors to the park can walk the various trails (even the four legged members are welcomed) from dawn to dusk 7 days a week. The Interpretative Center operates Tuesday – Saturday from 9:00 AM – 5:00 PM. Inside the Interpretative Center, visitors can step back in time and share the history of this historic site while viewing a video presentation and museum.

The Oliver Perry home, known as "the White House" is also available for tours during the holidays. Families are invited to start a new holiday tradition by visiting the White House on Saturday, December 5th from 4:00 PM – 8:00 PM and enjoy hot cider and cookies.

The Interpretative Center and White House will be closed for the holidays on Thursday, December 24 and Friday, December 25 in observance of the Christmas Holidays. They will also be closed on December 31, 2009 and January 1, 2010, however the trails will be open during these dates for you to walk off that holiday turkey.

All activities at Camp Nelson Heritage Park for Free to the public. Donations are accepted to assist the Camp Nelson Foundation and Jessamine County Fiscal Court to continue the development of the park for future generations.
